14 HORSES CREMATED

The livery stable of D. L. Lemon, of East Diamond street, Mt. Pleasant, was burned Saturday morning. A man sleeping in the stable at the time had a narrow escape. A large amount of hay and grain had been stored for the winter and, there were 16 head of horses in stalls at the time the blaze broke out. Only two of them were gotten safely out of the stable. Fourteen head, some of them valuable, were cremated. Their neighing could be heard for blocks as the fire reached them. The loss will amount to $6,000 with no insurance.

Large Crowds Attend Sale

The opening day of the anniversary sale, which is being conducted at the clothing store of M. Meyers & Son, brought crowds of bargain seekers and the store was almost packed the entire day. Although a corps of extra salesmen had been employed, it was next to impossible to take care of the large crowds. Today however, arrangement has been made to overcome this difficulty and all who attend the sale are assured prompt and courteous attention. The sale will close Saturday.

MISSING SON FOUND IN JAIL.

Pathetic Case Brought to Light When Aged Ohio Lady Learns, After Diligent Inquiry, the Whereabouts of Her Boy.

A case which is extremely pathetic has been brought to light by a telegram which was received by the Washington, Pa., authorities, from Mrs. Clara Daniels, of Lima, Ohio, asking the officers to look up the whereabouts of her son Ira Daniels, who has been missing from his home for many months. It was discovered that her son for whom she is inquiring is now confined in the Washington jail, having been committed a few weeks ago for having brought suit against a family in Monongahela, and being unable to pay the costs of the case when the grand jury ignored the bill.

Mrs. Daniels is a very old woman and suffered a stroke of paralysis a short time ago and was very anxious to locate her missing son. She stated that she had written to Monongahela several times as she had understood that her son was located in that city, but each time her letters although registered would be returned to her. Daniels came to Monongahela about one year ago and since that time had been employed as a painter. Sometime ago he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Sowers of Monongahela, and had gone to housekeeping there. He brought suit against Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ray of Monongahela, and the case was up before the last grand jury and the bill was ignored and the costs placed on him. He was unable to pay the costs in the case and was sent to jail where he was found yesterday after the inquiry of his aged mother.

"Smokehouse" Formally Opened.

The formal opening of the "Smokehouse" Monessen's new pool parlors, which was held Saturday was a success beyond the expectations of the management. The finely equipped place of amusement was crowded all day. Each visitor was presented with a fine cigar. Everyone who tried the handsome new tables pronounced them fine, and they were kept going from the opening to the closing hour. Both Mr. Painter and Mr. Werk are genial fellows and their success is assured.

CIVIL LIST TAKEN UP

This Morning Judges Doty and McConnell Began Disposing of the Many Cases on Common Plea Docket.

Saturday wound up the November term of criminal court. The present term of criminal court was not as long as usual. During the few days the court was in session, Judge Lucien W. Doty and Alexander D. McConnell handled a great amount of business and the court was not allowed to drag for a minute.

Today the common pleas trial list will be taken up. There are a large number of cases on the docket for trial and business will be put through with dispatch.

Judge John B. Steel held a brief session of motion court Saturday, but only matters of a strict routine nature came before him. Judge Steel will hear motions and some special matters that are before him.

The regular November term of orphans' court will begin Monday, December 3 and continue for three weeks. The distribution list for November term shows a total of 54 cases for hearing.

Alleged Monongahela Resort Raided

With two officers Chief of Police Leo Logan of Monongahela, Saturday night raided an alleged gambling resort. Refused admittance at the door, Logan entered a second story window by means of a ladder, capturing four men. W. H. Bear, the alleged proprietor, was held for court.

YESTERDAY, RED-LETTER DAY, IN LOCAL POLICE CIRCLES

Twenty-Two Drunks, Gleanings of Saturday Night, Were Arraigned Before Mayor Shutterly Yesterday Morning—Another Batch To-day.

Yesterday was without doubt red letter day in local police circles. Yesterday morning 22 prisoners faced Mayor Shutterly, the majority of them being charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Of this number a total of $147 in fines was collected; three were broke and are serving 5 day sentences in the boro jail and two were held and on information furnished by Chief of Police Woolsey and were this morning given hearings, before Squire Jas. A. Watkins and held for court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Not for many moons has a more motly crew been gathered together by the local police, than the one arraigned before His Honor yesterday morning. All of Saturday night and Sunday morning, the air in the vicinity of the borough bastile was made hideous by their yells and maudlin songs.

The work of sorting them over at the hearing was a particularly tedious one, but Mayor Shutterly came out with flying colors.

Last night a fresh bunch of drunks was collected by the cops, and all were given hearings this morning. Peter Suter was assessed $8 and costs for getting gloriously jagged. Andy Koe, on a like charge, forfeited $10. Andy Sulva was also charged with having been drunk and disorderly and was fined $8 and costs.

John Grunda pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and paid $10 and costs for his fun. Redda Costella drew a fine of $8 and costs or 5 days to the boro jail. Not satisfied, he got fresh with His Honor and the result was a meal ticket good for thirty days with Mine Host Sheriff Seanor.

MAY BE A MURDER.

The residents of Twilight, a small village near Charleroi, are somewhat exercised over the mysterious disappearance of John Albert, a Finn, of that place. Chief of Police Woolsey received a letter today from the authorities at Twilight stating that the man had left there last Tuesday with a cow which it was thought he had disposed of in Monessen and that he had not been seen since.

Chief Woolsey immediately investigated and found that Albert had sold the cow to Mrs. Nelson, of 423 Clarendon avenue, this city, on Thursday morning. The deal was closed about 11 o'clock and the man left presumably for his home with the $30, which he had received for the animal. When he failed to return home his friends became alarmed and they now fear that he has been murdered for the money.

The missing man is described as being about 50 years of age and has a scar across his face at the base of his nose, the result of an accident in the mines. When last seen he wore a black scotch cap and dark clothes. An effort will be made to discover the man's whereabouts.

Dago Causes Trouble

An obstreperous Italian caused considerable excitement Saturday evening, when after being thrown from a street car of the local line he made an attempt to use a gun on the conductor. A shot from the latter's gun put the son of Italy to hasty flight. No damage was done by the bullet.

Peculiar Light Giving Animals.

A peculiar light giving animal found in southern Californian waters is the heteropod. The heteropods, dazzling white and almost shapeless, can often be seen floating on the clear water. Their bodies are almost transparent, and they have in addition to a long tail a powerful sucker, by which they cling to seaweed. When these creatures are irritated they seem to emit a light from all over the body, though one writer describes one in which the light—red in this case—seemed to radiate from the center of the animal. Of all the light giving animals the salpa is said to be the most wonderful. Like the heteropod, this animal is provided with claspers that enable it to fasten to seaweed and rocks. So plentiful are they in Californian waters that the Santa Catalina channel, which is from eighteen to twenty miles wide and about forty-five miles long, is at times literally covered with them as far as the eye can reach. Covering the entire surface and gleaming like gems in the sunlight, they present a beautiful picture. These animals constitute a delicacy much sought for by whales. Some of them shed a silvery light, while others yield blue and others red light.

Rivers That Flow Backward.

Near Argostoli, a town on one of the Greek islands, four little torrents of sea water, rolling on an average fifty-five gallons a second, penetrate into the fissures of the cliffs, flow rapidly inland and finally gradually disappear into the crevices of the soil. Two of these water courses are sufficiently powerful to turn all the year round the wheels of two mills constructed by an enterprising Englishman. This seems at first sight absurd on the face of it, but it is quite easily explained The hills of the island are of soft, calcareous rock, full of fissures, and suck up water like immense sponges In consequence the pools in their subterranean caverns are always lower than the surrounding sea, so to restore the balance these little brooks, fed by the waves, are always descending inland The curious yet natural result of the constant evaporation of the sea water is that gigantic masses of salt crystals are constantly forming in the caves.—Strand Magazine.

Straw Rope Swings.

Korea is perhaps the oldest country in the world, and the customs and actions that go to make up the daily life of the people are not at all governed by the logic or tradition which moves us on our enlightened way. They have no clearly regulated sports, nothing apparently that could be likened to a national game. They pass most of their recreation hours swinging in straw rope swings and seem entirely happy in the sport. The straw rope, if well made, is extremely durable and can stand considerable weight, as may be judged when three ablebodied young men impose their weight upon the swing, standing on the shoulders of one another after the manner of acrobats. It may be very fine pastime, but the average American, it is safe to say, would find in it very little appeal.

The Old Greek Divorce Law.

A clergyman was railing against divorce. "We ought to have the divorce law that was enforced in ancient Greece," he said. "If that old Greek clause was tacked to every separation, I am persuaded that divorces would fall off 60 to 70 per cent This law was that when a man got a divorce he could not under any circumstances marry another woman younger than his ex-wife. An innocent law, a brief law, not much to look at, but how many divorce suits would be nipped in the bud if all husbands knew that after the separation they could not marry younger women than the wives they had cast off!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Water on the Veldt.

Water is sometimes very scarce and precious on the South African veldt, according to a writer, who says: "In our veldt cottage we had no well, only large tanks, and about August our condition usually became desperate If you washed your hands you carried the precious fluid out to pour it on some thirsty plant or vegetable; the bath water the same, part of it being first saved to scrub floors Cabbage and potato water was allowed to cool and then used for the garden or to wash the dogs in first, so that these waters did three duties."

Enthusiast to the End.

An enthusiastic French physician, while dying, made careful observations of his condition, detailing his symptoms to his son and attending physician in order that they might make a record of them. At the very end, when he was on the point of passing away, he surprised the friends at his bedside by saying, "You see I am dying."

Not Flattering.

S. Baring-Gould, the English novelist, had the bitter pleasure of reading many not-flattering obituaries of himself. Through an error he was reported dead, and the newspapers of his native land declared unanimously that he had left no good work behind. An American editor dined with Baring Gould in London. The talk turned to the premature obituaries, and the American said, "How did you feel on reading them?" Taken aback, nonplused, the novelist grimly replied: "I felt like a lady who owned a parrot. This lady's cook came to her one morning in joyful excitement. 'Oh, ma'am,' she cried, 'the parrot has learned some new words.' 'Good,' said the lady. 'That bird is wonderfully teachable It sits and drinks in every blessed word my husband says to me. What does it say now?' 'It keeps a-sayin',' said the cook, ' "Shut up, you old fool!" ' "

Kean and the Showman.

An amusing paper in Chambers' Journal on John Richardson, the illiterate and successful English showman of the last century, contains this story:

It was during the earlier and less fortunate part of his pilgrimage that he numbered Edmund Kean among his company. The old showman was not a little proud of this association and used to give himself some credit for having had a hand in Kean's theatrical education. When Macready's name was becoming known in the dramatic world Richardson was asked if he had seen him.

"No, muster," he said, "I know nothing about him: in fact, he's some vagabone as no one knows—one o' them chaps as ain't had any eddication for the thing. He never was with me, as Edmund Kean and them sigiars was."

The Oldest Bank Notes.

The oldest bank notes in the world are the "flying money," or convenient money, first issued in China in 2697 B. C. One writer tells that the ancient Chinese bank notes were in many respects similar to those of the present day, bearing the name of the bank, the date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official who issued it and its value in both figures and words On the top of these curious notes was the following philosophic injunction: "Produce all you can; spend with economy." The note was printed in blue ink on paper made from the fiber of the mulberry tree One of these notes bearing the date 1399 B. C. is still preserved in the Asiatic museum at St Petersburg.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts Dr Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress Dr Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers It builds; it strengthens it offers real genuine heart help

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves — re-establish them as needed, with

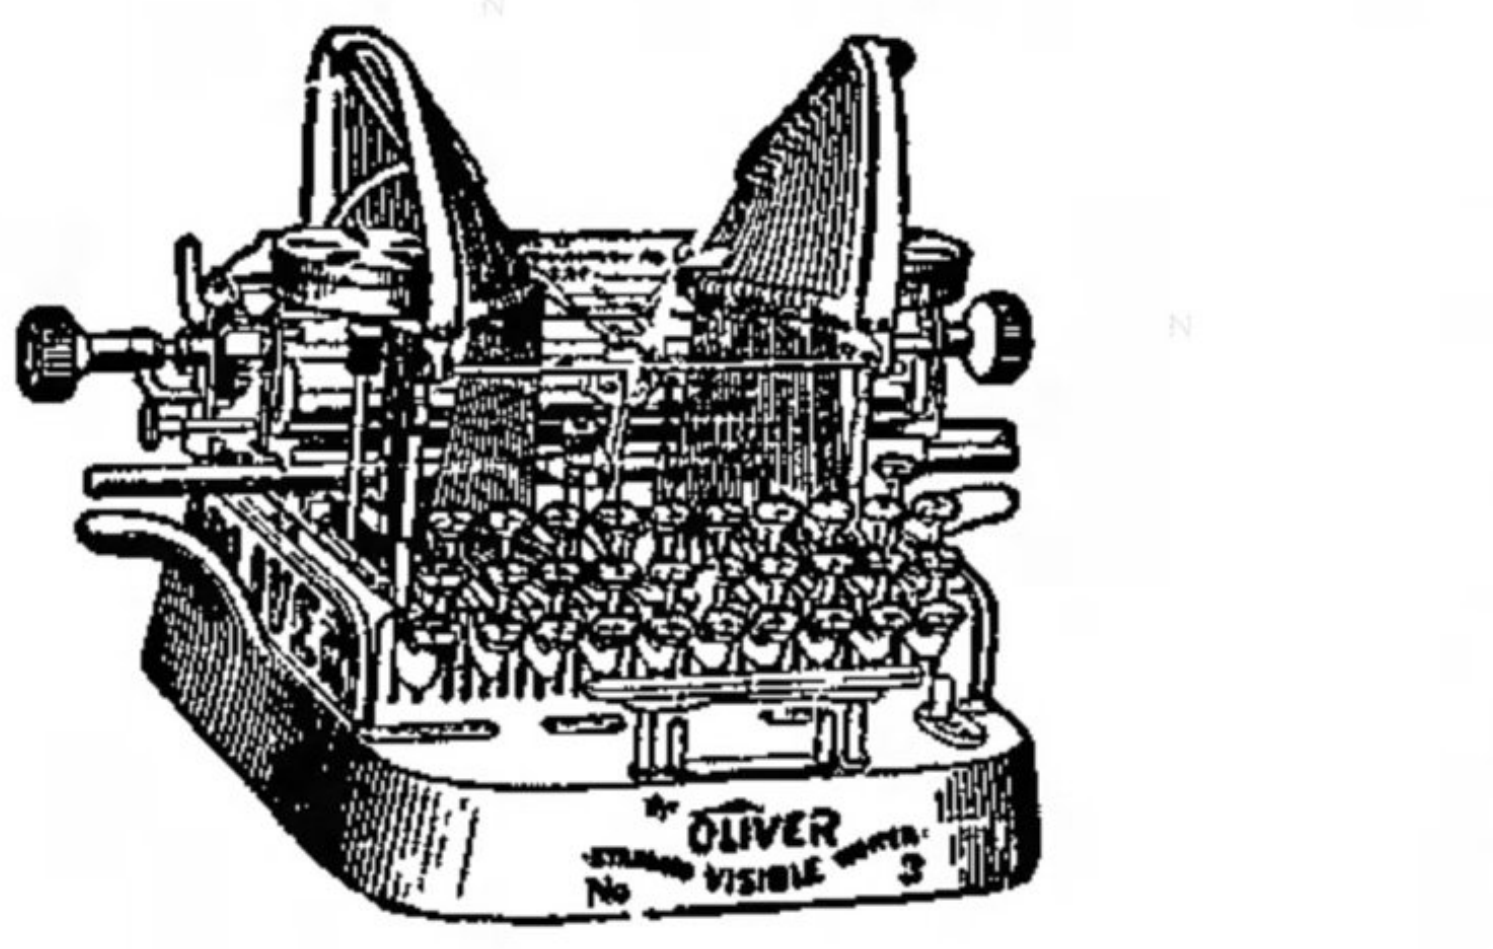
THIS TYPEWRITER
DELIVERS THE GOODS

It's the Oliver—the Standard Visible Writer.

The Oliver Typewriter is just like an athlete stripped for a race



It is free from unnecessary multiplicity of wires and springs

No net work of flimsy keys to get tied into hard knots

The nimble fingered stenographer can put talk into type with this machine just as rapidly as she takes your dictation.

For no matter how swiftly she writes, she can see just what she's doing

The keyboard is so wonderfully responsive to the touch of the finger tips that speed comes without effort.

The factors that make for speed are its visible writing, its light, elastic key-touch, and it's all 'round simplicity. It has the fewest possible wearing points, and it prints with a downward stroke.

The OLIVER Typewriter
THE STANDARD VISIBLE WRITER

is a flawless piece of mechanism, combining the strength of tested steel with the perfect adjustment of the works of a watch. You can use an Oliver a life time and the type will not lose alignment

It never suffers from nervous prostration; requires only a little oil and plenty of exercise to keep it at the highest point of efficiency

The hum of Oliver Typewriters is heard in the most progressive business houses in the land Sales increasing at a phenomenal rate. Get acquainted with the Oliver! Write for the Oliver book—we send it free with our compliments.

Where You See the Oldest Trees in the World

IMAGINE this if you can—3 square miles of forest, containing 3000 trees measuring over 300 feet in height and 50 feet around. When you consider that every one of these trees is as high as the ordinary city-skyscraper of today, and that there are 3000 of them in this one forest, you have only a vague idea of the sight before you as you ride among them and look up among their branches Even these are larger than any trees near your home. Expert estimate places the age of these trees at 8000 years. They were growing before the pyramids of Egypt were built The

The Store That's Always Busy

BIGGER Than Ever

THE QUALITY IS RIGHT AND THE PRICE IS RIGHT

WHY? By honest, fair and upright dealing our trade has increased so rapidly that in two years we have been compelled to increase our floor space from 4,400 to 11,000 square feet.

Day after day, in our store, customers remark that our stock of furniture is far above anything in the city in quality and that our prices are wonderfully low.

Goods that are cheap in quality should be cheap in price.

As for our stock we simply show the best the whole wide world produces, pricing legitimately and meeting our patrons more than half way in the matter of accommodations.

That's Why We've Grown.

Come in and take a look at our line of BED ROOM SUITS, and odd DRESSERS, in Mahogany, Bird's Eye Maple or Oak. We also call especial attention to our line of DINING ROOM SUITS, BUFFETS and SIDEBOARDS, in either Early English Weathered or Golden Oak. In quality, design, workmanship and finish they are unequaled. Get our prices on Davenports and Leather Rockers.

One of our Carpets or Room size Rugs will add a wonderful "newness" to that dining room for Thanksgiving. AND THAT'S NOT ALL. We carry the largest line of Builder's Hardware, Gas and Coal Ranges, Gas and Coal Heaters, Paints, Oils, Glass, Shelf Housefurnishing Goods, that is carried under one roof in the Monongahela Valley. We will trust you.
